

Wall panels MATTERHORN Knotty Spruce rustic chopped | 100% PEFC

Item No. 08-000186

Description

Fascinating brown tones. For a long time, the Matterhorn, Switzerland's landmark, was considered impregnable. While the extremely steep mountain massif with its forbidding shape still captivates many alpinists today, the wall panels of the same name made of spruce enchant with their natural and irregular brown colouring. Through our processing technique, we create a fascinating play of colours along the grain.
